

IT Trainee

Could you imagine a seaside office, in a growing IT company where strong quality solutions are passionately built?

Do you really believe that e-commerce revolution is possible through hard work, creativity and technological innovation?

If so, then we would be very curious to meet you.

Job summary

We are looking for an extremely capable and ambitious new graduate engineer to take part in an IEFP internship. The successful candidate will join a great multinational team experienced in building large e-commerce platforms.

Key skills

High interest in java and object oriented languages, and open source technologies;

E-commerce concerned;

Very curious about the larger e-commerce platforms in the world;

Erasmus experience (nice to have)

Exposure to Test Driven Development (nice to have)

Very keen to work in an Agile environment

Strong interpersonal skills

Demonstrated teamwork and ability to work with diverse team locations and backgrounds

Availability to travel (must have)

Strong english speaker

High-level student;

Education

Bachelor's degree in Information Technology, Computer Science, or Management Information Systems or equivalent combination of relevant experience and education

What would we offer?

IEFP Internship with an increased scholarship

Possibility of participation in national and international recognition projects

Career development

Suitable training

Social company benefits

Apply: jobs@techbiosis.com