

Java Developer

Could you imagine a front-sea office, in a growing IT company where strong quality solutions are passionately built?

Do you really believe that e-commerce revolution is possible through hard work, creativity and technological innovation?

If so, then we would be very curious to meet you.

Job summary

We are looking for an extremely capable and ambitious engineer who has a strong background in Java development, and who has built high-performance, scalable and extensible systems. The successful candidate will join a great team which forms the foundation of our products and services. In this highly visible position, the candidate will mentor junior developers and collaborate with our clients to define and implement some of the core backend platform frameworks and systems that will power our services.

Key skills

- More than 2 years of experience in Core Java
- Very strong exposure to Test Driven Development
- Experience on REST Services
- Service Discovery, containerization
- Designing and developing for the Cloud - AWS
- Strong familiar with Agile (scrum) development methodologies, continuous integration
- Strong interpersonal skills
- Demonstrated teamwork and ability to work with diverse team locations and backgrounds
- Experience leading/mentoring other developers
- Availability to travel
- Strong english speaker

Education

Bachelor's degree in Information Technology, Computer Science, or Management Information Systems or equivalent combination of relevant experience and education

What would we offer?

- Possibility of participation in national and international recognition projects
- Health Insurance and other social benefits
- Career development
- Suitable training

Apply: jobs@techbiosis.com