

Barkyn

LOVE FOR YOUR DOG

Full Stack (PHP) Developer

barkyn.com

Barkyn is a startup that offers a custom service to pets and owners delivering all services they might need. We're developing a innovative platform not only in the pet scene but also in eCommerce. We're growing every month with a big online exposure. With office in Porto, we operate in Portugal and Spain being other European markets being evaluated.

Main Responsibilities

- Core system and Internal Tools new developments and improvements, advanced A/B testing and help operations optimisation are just a few things you'll have to work on
- Though your main responsibility will be back-end development you'll have to work across different areas of the software stack
- Contribute with clean, secure, scalable and maintainable code
- Contribute to the evolution of the overall product & system architecture
- You can work independently, taking responsibility and ownership of what you deliver

Main Requirements

- You really need to be a fast learner and independent
- The more experience you have with our technical stack the better: Nginx/PHP-fpm, apache, PHP, Prestashop and Symfony, PHPUnit, MySql/MariaDB, Memcache
- You don't need to be a JavaScript ninja but you know a lot more than copy/paste from stack overflow... Does ES2016+, asynchronous programming and functional programming concepts mean anything to you?

If you're still reading this let's talk. Send CV and a brief introduction to woof@barkyn.com

Site: barkyn.com

Facebook: facebook.com/barkyndogs